

Lucky Bucket found the golden ticket.

Charlie Bucket, the Willy Wonka's Competition winner, found the 5th golden ticket in the one stop shop. As a result of finding the golden ticket Charlie was bombarded with crowds of offers for the ticket.

He lives in a cramped old house with all of his relatives. And that is the only house him and his family can afford, because his dad got made redundant from his job, however his dad still gets money for shovelling snow off the streets.

Charlie Bucket found some money on the floor and he ran like the wind across the bitter icy snow, the poor boy took one step forward, the little boy Charlie went nearer and nearer to the shop and bought one more scrumptious and delicious chocolate bar. Charlie opened the chocolate bar at a snail's pace, and gradually as the tension grew stronger and stronger and he was bombarded at finding the sparkly golden ticket." I've got it, I've got it, "he screamed, Charlie told us obviously enjoyed at his good fortune, from his family home.

Charlie found the golden Ticket!

To conclude, Charlie and the other 4 ticket holders will be entering the chocolate factory tomorrow on the 1st of February 10am, who are Willy Wonks' Wonderful winners of a lifetime supply of chocolate?
