

Chocolate Crazy For Mr Charlie Bucket!!!

As Wonka's chocolate lovers dream come to an end, Charlie bucket wins last glorious golden ticket. Charlie a, poor unfortunate Londoner, was lucky enough to find money on the street and managed to spend it on the right thing. All this chocolate chaos happened on the 13th January 1910, yesterday.

This lucky boy, who found the last golden ticket, lives in a rundown location in London in a 2 roomed house. There are 4 elderly people living in one bed, Grandpa Joe, grandma Josephina, Grandpa George and grandma Georgina. In the drafted attic Charlie and his loved parents sleeping on the unstable creaky floor.

Charlie, the sad poor young child, was walking down the road freezing in his own blood when he spotted the chocolate giving dollar note. The little boy sprinted into the shop, dusting of the tatty dollar note and brought the first Delicious yummy juice Wonka bar he saw and teared the rapper off "As fast as a lion sprinting through the forest" the shop keeper Reported. And there it was. The last ticket. Thinking of all that chocolate he ran into his pitiful home however something came across his mind, he realized what he was living in and that someone would pay for the prized ticket. But before he knew it his grandpa Joe was dancing round in his spotty under wear shouting "Yipeeeeeee!!!" His mother told us "he was so excited Joe didn't stop dancing for the rest of the day!" Overall the Bucket family will be going to Willy Wonka's chocolate factory and see the fabulous experience they deserve. Charlie offered to sell his golden ticket recognising it could be worth a fortune that his family could definitely do with, since his farther Mr bucket lost his job at the toothpaste factory recently. However his family disagreed as it was a once in a life time opportunity.

Eventually Charlie and the other 4 lucky winners will go the magnificent chocolate factory and experience all of what the factory has to offer. But who will be the lucky prize winner?
