

Buckets of chocolate

Chocolate sales have gone through the roof with will wonker willing to open the factory to five lucky golden ticket winner which can be found in Willy Wonkers chocolate bar wrappers .

The first winner, A chocolate eating monster called Augustus Gloup, followed by the rich money sucking Varuca salt who has longed for the ticket above all the third golden ticket winner a bubble chewing gum karate expert violet beauagard, up and coming g the ticket winner mike Teeve a live depending on Teeve and computer games and last but by no means least the little chap named Charlie bucket.

So the fifth golden ticket winner has been found sir Charlie bucket who lives in London in a small house which lets in rain and snow and is very cold inside. His relatives that he lives with Mr and Mrs Bucket and all his grandparents they are badly poverty-stricken so it comes as a deep and reluctant surprise to Charlie when he found the last and final golden ticket.

During him holding the ticket before him now he was walking round to school and found the a £1 note so off he ran with his one pound note to the corner shop.

A huge sign covered the door saying Willy Wonkers chocolate bars sold here so he walks in to the shop and asked the shop keeper for a Wonkers Whipple scrumptious Fudge Mallow Delight he gulped down the chocolate bar a seen the lumps go down his throat then he got his 50p change and Realised he had enough for another wonker Whipple scrumptious fudge mallow Delight so that is what he did he bought a Wonkers Whipple scrumptious fudge mallow delight. He Teared back the paper and to his surprise there was a piece of golden platted ticket. He ran home and there he had the last Golden Ticket of them all!

Reported By Daniel Bridges

