

Choco-late

The fifth golden ticket was found by the lucky winner, Charlie bucket which will lead to Willy Wonka's chocolate factory. Unexpectedly he found a £5 note on the narrow streets. However he was offered money by some people in the news agent, after opening his Wonka Whipple scrumptious fudge mallow delight on the 31st January 1935. The shop owner was shocked and shouted, "the boy found the ticket, and in my shop!" Charlie ran rapidly to his house excited to go to the factory.

The other 4 lucky winners were, a chocoholic boy called Augustus Gloop, afterwards there was a spoilt little brat called Veruca Salt who didn't find the ticket herself instead her father told the women in the factory to stop shelling peanuts and start opening wrappers and find the ticket. The 3rd winner was Violet Beauregard was a American gum chewer, when she heard about the golden ticket she laid off the gum and switched to chocolate however has over 250 trophies, fourthly was Mike Teevee who is a video game addict who doesn't care and he said he doesn't even like chocolate which was not understandable. And the last but not least Charlie bucket.

Is a poor boy from London won the 5th and last golden ticket. And his parents were amazed to hear about the golden ticket, especially he grandpa he jumped out of bed and started tap dancing in the one roomed house. Charlie wanted to sell it for £500 but grandpa Joe said we make money every day thanks to your parents. So will he go or not?
