

Lucky Bucket

Finally, the 5th golden ticket found but the lucky Charlie Bucket. Miraculously he found the amazing, rare golden ticket in an unexpected newspaper and stationary shop. Meanwhile this Londoner is a very penniless and impecunious 11 year old boy who living in the worst living conditions possible. He found the fantastic golden ticket tucked inside a delicious wonka whipple scrumptious fudge mallow delight on the 31st of January 1935. However this boy is very different to the other golden ticket owners, Veruca Salt, Augustus Gloop, Mike Teevee and Violet Beauregard. Also Simon Cowell has bought £70 million pounds worth of wonka bars.

So its all over! The chocolate stravaganer has sadly come to an end. However, the 5 lucky winner's adventure has just begun. Our first lucky finder was Augustus Gloop a butcher's son from Dusseldorf, Germany, who amazingly found the golden ticket in his mouth while gobbling down a wonka bar. Mrs Gloop happily exclaimed "Our little muncher would be stupid not to find the golden ticket because he eats so much." Then we spoke to Augustus him self how he felt " I feel amazed that I found the wonka ticket." Then we asked him how he celebrates " I eat more candy!"

Then we went to our second winner, Veruca Salt from Buckinghamshire England. We interviewed her dad , Mr Salt, who stated " When my angel found out about these golden tickets she begged me to find her one so I stopped packing peanuts band swapped to unpacking wonka bars." Next we spoke to the girl herself Veruca about how she felt when she got the golden ticket " I danced around the house with my ticket clutched to my chest." After we spoke to a close neighbour called Maggie Black who confirmed " That little brat has no manners and she didn't deserve that rare ticket and I hate her!"

Now we visit Violet Beauregard from Atlanta U.S.A . Meanwhile Violet is a gum chewing champion and has won over 500 trophies and 1000 medals. Next we spoke to Violets mum Betty Beauregard who confirmed " She will easily win the final prize as she is my little hero. Lastly we speak to the champion herself Violet who exclaimed " That kid is gonna be me who wins the final prize."

4thly we speak about Mike Teevee from Gallardo U.S.A. Now we speak to him himself Mike who while playing on his X box stated “ I hate chocolate and anyway id rather get a PSP.”
